

Diction (15)

NAME: _____
DATE: ____/____/____
WEEK: ____ : PERIOD: #____

Consider:

Her face was white and sharp and slightly gleaming in the candlelight, like bone. No hint of pink. And the hair. So fine, so pale, so much, crimped by its plaiting into springy zigzag tresses, clouding neck and shoulders, shining metallic in the candlelight, catching a hint, there it was, of green again, from the reflection of a large glazed cache-pot containing a vigorous sword-leafed fern.

— A. S. Byatt, Possession: A Romance

Discuss:

1. When the author describes a face “like bone,” what feelings are suggested?
2. How can hair be “clouding neck and shoulders”? What picture does this word create for the reader?

Apply:

3. Substitute another noun for bone in sentence one. Your substitution should change the meaning and feeling of the sentence. Share your sentence with the class and explain how your noun changes the sentence’s connotation and impact.

Diction ⑩

NAME: _____

DATE: ____/____/____

WEEK: _____

PERIOD: # _____

Consider:

"Ahhh," the crowd went, "Ahhh," as at the most beautiful of fireworks, for the sky was alive now, one instant a pond and at the next a womb of new turns: "Ahhh," went the crowd, "Ahhh!"

— Norman Mailer, "Of a Fire on the Moon"

Discuss:

1. This quote is from a description of the Apollo-Saturn launching. The Saturn was a huge rocket that launched the Apollo space capsule, a three-man ship headed for the moon. Why is the sky described as a pond then a womb? Contrast the two words. What happens that changes the sky from a pond to a womb?
2. What does Mailer's use of the word womb tell the reader about his attitude toward the launch?

Apply:

3. Think of a concert you have attended. Write one sentence which expresses a transformation of the concert stage. Using Mailer's description as a model, call the stage first a _____ then a _____. Do not explain the transformation or your attitude toward it. Instead, let your diction alone communicate both the transformation and your attitude. Share your sentence with a partner.
