

Research Process Visualization

Create a full-page graphic representation of the research process. Refer to the assigned reading "What Research Is". Try to visually represent each of the following processes: choosing a topic, choosing a research method, evaluating credibility, conducting research, and writing up findings.