

Literary Analysis Essay – Final Draft Rubric

There is an approved theme claim (highlighted yellow) in every paragraph (restated a different way each time) that presents a defensible interpretation of the literary work. <hr/> 0 – Theme claim is present in only one paragraph and/or does not present a defensible claim of the work. 1 – Theme claim is missing in one or more paragraphs and/or is restated only two or three ways. 2 – Theme claim is present in all paragraphs and is restated in different wording each time.	____ out of 2
There are smoothly woven, parenthetically cited quotations present in the body paragraphs. (Quotations should be highlighted green; citations should be highlighted orange.) <hr/> 0 – None are present. 1 – Only one is present. 2 – Two or three are present. 3 – Four or more are present.	____ out of 3
There is commentary (highlighted in pink or purple) that elaborates on textual evidence to explain the effects of the author’s choices and/or to consider on the author’s intentions. <hr/> 0 – Simply restates the thesis (if present) or offers information irrelevant to the argument of the thesis. 1 – Merely summarizes the plot/evidence but doesn’t explain how that information supports the argument of the thesis. 2 – Commentary explains how some (but not all) of the evidence supports the argument of the thesis. 3 – Commentary consistently and convincingly explains how the evidence supports the argument of the thesis.	____ out of 3
There is an introduction paragraph (that includes the full underlined/italicized title of the work as well as the author's full name) and a conclusion paragraph that situate the subject matter of the essay in some larger context while justifying why the argument of the thesis matters. <hr/> 0 – None of the criteria above are met. 1 – A reasonable attempt is made to situate the argument of the thesis in some larger context, and the criteria above are met.	____ out of 1
The essay is in proper MLA format. <hr/> 0 – The essay is not in full MLA format. 1 – The essay is in full MLA format.	____ out of 1
non-negotiable mechanical error penalties (-1 for each)	- ____ out of 0

TOTAL: ____ out of 10